As you have seen in the course description, we will be studying World History from approximately 8000 B.C.E. until the present. The workload for this course is not going to be easy. However, it is a great opportunity to earn credits and free yourself from a 3-credit course in your first or second year of college. Moreover, you will become accustomed to the conduct and workload of a typical university-level humanities course, and the responsibility it places upon the individual. I have every confidence that you will do well.

Follow these directions:

- 1) Use a solid notebook (you may need more than one), NOT a loose-leaf binder or spiral notebook. Your grade will be based upon: neatness, thoroughness, and attention to detail. This project is worth 100 points. I advise you to take it seriously. Work a bit at a time and do not put it off until the last minute. The assignment must be complete but concise; and hand written. If you take shortcuts, I will know...and I will grade accordingly.
- 2) Go to <https://login.cengagebrain.com>
- 3) Enter your access code and click "register"
- 4) You are a new student, so "create an account" (you need an email address)
- 5) Sign in using your information and password that you just created.
- 6) This will take you to your home page of the textbook. Click on "chapter outlines", and you can access all 32 of them.

THE ASSIGNMENT (Due the first day of school):

- 1) On the website you will find 32 outlines, one for each chapter. Your assignment is to outline the outlines, in your notebook, by hand, keeping the original format structure. Meaning, read each outline carefully, and take notes on it...outline it. While working, be mindful of these themes, as they are the basis of the AP Exam:
 - Theme 1: Interaction Between Humans and the Environment
 - Theme 2: Development and Interaction of Cultures
 - Theme 3: State (Nation) -Building, Expansion, and Conflict
 - Theme 4: Creation, Expansion, and Interaction of Economic Systems
 - Theme 5: Development and Transformation of Social Structures
- 2) At the end of each outline, label each theme as above, and list a few (at least 3) examples from the outline that fit the particular theme. The theme title with bullet points under it is fine, but be sure to list concepts, not single words.
- 3) For more information about the themes, the course, and the exam, visit <http://apcentral.collegeboard.com/home> and find the page for AP World History. This site has tons of information about the course and the exam.
